Fabulous modern ground-floor apartment, only one year old, located 150 meters from the Sardinero Promenade, next to the access road to the sea, in Torre de la Horadada. This single-story house combines modern design, efficiency, and a practical and comfortable lifestyle year-round. The property is in excellent condition and ready to move into. The layout is functional and well-utilized. You enter directly through the reinforced security door into the living room, which features a cozy electric fireplace, perfect for winter. The living room has access to the garage, which, with its motorized door, can accommodate one vehicle. This space is climate-controlled, includes a wardrobe, and has ventilation for various uses should you. (Ask for More Details!)
